Time to stock up

We're living in busy times. Studies and surveys announcing that we're busier than ever abound – Speciality Food Magazine itself has reported on the rise and rise of convenient food and drink options for the UK's increasingly on-the-go shoppers – and your life as an independent retailer is no exception.

It can be time-consuming enough to keep up with the latest products trends, let alone decide which work for your business and apply them, which is why the Speciality Food team has again created our annual Stock Check Book – a comprehensive guide to the very best food and drink in the industry today.

Everything from snacks to Spanish food, soft drinks to alcoholic, and chocolate to the most delicious oils and vinegars are covered, so with this handy publication by your side you can feel confident in your stocking decisions for the next twelve months.

I hope you find this guide a useful addition to your retail arsenal. Until next year.

Cantina Chimichurri is a herby and zesty sauce & marinade that brings food to life. A household staple in Argentina, chimichurri is traditionally eaten with beef but it's perfect on everything – from falafels, to grilled fish or doused over a pizza.

Unlike other condiments, Cantina Chimichurri adds to existing flavours rather than drowning them out. The oil and vinegar infused herbs are bursting with flavour, while the garlic and chilli add a Latin punch to any dish.

Cantina also offers Chilli Chimi, which has the same great taste but is packed with birdseye chillies that add a mighty kick of heat.

All of Cantina's products are gluten-free, made using 100% natural ingredients and suitable for vegans.

Available to order via Tree of Life, The Health Store, Artisan Food Club, The Fine Food Angel or Direct.

BUMBLEZEST DRINKS

..... bumblezest.co.uk

BumbleZest was born out of Dan and Emily's Battersea kitchen, crafting recipes using natural ingredients from around the world.

They now have a range of 10 all natural soft drinks on the market, each recipe is packed with functional ingredients crafted together to assist with the vigours of modern life.

"I struggled to keep a balanced lifestyle working in property and living in a city with lots of distractions. With my previous work I was drinking too much coffee and alcohol, I experienced high levels of stress and anxiety, which along with skin issues led me to develop BumbleZest. I started drinking lemon water with a drop of honey, often mixing it with different herbs I grow in my tiny Battersea garden. I wanted to start sourcing other incredible ingredients, so I packed in my day job to launch BumbleZest. I am delighted that my wife Emily also joined BumbleZest fulltime. I really hope you enjoy my recipes as much as I've had fun making them."
